Education: University of Wyoming, Laramie, WY
B.S. - Botany, 2017.
Undergraduate research: Phenotyping below-ground B. rapa diversity and its influence on yield.

Research Experience:

Plenty Unlimited Inc, 2018- present:

- Crop phenotyping via infrared gas analysis
- Light quality effect on leafy greens and fruiting crops
- Luminair characterization, light quality mapping/visualization
- HVAC & fertigation control systems
- Experimental design and execution
- Programming and statistical analysis

Ewers Plant Ecophysiology Lab, University of Wyoming, 2016-2018:

- Phenotyping B. rapa accessions for above and below ground carbon partitioning
- Quantifying PSII stress via chlorophyll a fluorescence using FluoPen/MultispeQ/LICOR 6400/Fluorcam
- Sterile preparation of non-structural carbohydrate/pigment extraction
- Diurnal CO₂ assimilation surveys of B. vulgaris
- Soil, stem, and leaf water potential quantification
- Remote sensing landscape scale vegetation (NDVI)

Wyoming Natural Diversity Database (WYNDD), University of Wyoming, 2015:

- Basic field collection methodology
- Locate and delineate remote wetland sites
- Characterize and assess soil for hydric markers
- Dataset management

Presentations:

Upcoming: American Society for Horticultural Science 2021. Denver, Colorado. Poster Presentation. Cotyledon Competency in CEA: Light Response Curve Analysis across Emerging Mizuna Leaf Tissues. Chris Nieters, Phoebe Killea, Alia Gonzales, Tessa Pocock.

American Geophysical Union 2017. New Orleans, Louisiana. Poster presentation. Mind the Roots: Phenotyping Below-Ground Crop Diversity and Its Influence on Final Yield. Christopher Nieters, Carmela Rosaria Guadagno, Sarah Lemli, Atefeh Hosseini and Brent E Ewers.

University of Wyoming Undergraduate Research Day 2017. Laramie, Wyoming. Poster presentation. How can temporal dynamics in root growth improve model predictions of crop yield? Christopher Nieters, Carmela R. Guadagno, Brent E. Ewers.

Academic Awards and Nominations:

2017. CWT Penland and Nyla Penland Memorial Scholarship for Outstanding Botany Senior Student
2017. Wilhelm G and Ragnhild Solheim Memorial Scholarship
2017. University of Wyoming Dean's List
2016. University of Wyoming President's List
2013 -2017. Hathaway Performance Scholarship

Academic Service & Volunteering:
